

The project is structured in nine Work Packages through three interwoven stages: the stage of data collection and design, the stage of development and data integration, and the stage of community building and evaluation of the service.

